Historical nest of style

Kravattitehdas is not just any old industrial building, but one of the hotspots of the Finnish textile and export industry. The story of Kravattitehdas began in 1929 when its older part was introduced as the production and office premises of Helsingin Kutomo ja Kravatti Oy.

After eventful decades, Nordic real estate investment trust Areim acquired the properties of Elimäenkatu 9 and 15 in 2017. The carefully planned and executed reform culminates in 2020: Kravattitehdas will once again serve as the home of businesses and communities that value functional and productive day-to-day life.
